

What is the number of movies in the categories and total amount of movies in rental store

The chart shows how the movies are divided in the categories and its total number in the rental store

Find how many actors played in the movies?

The graph shows how many actors played in the movies.

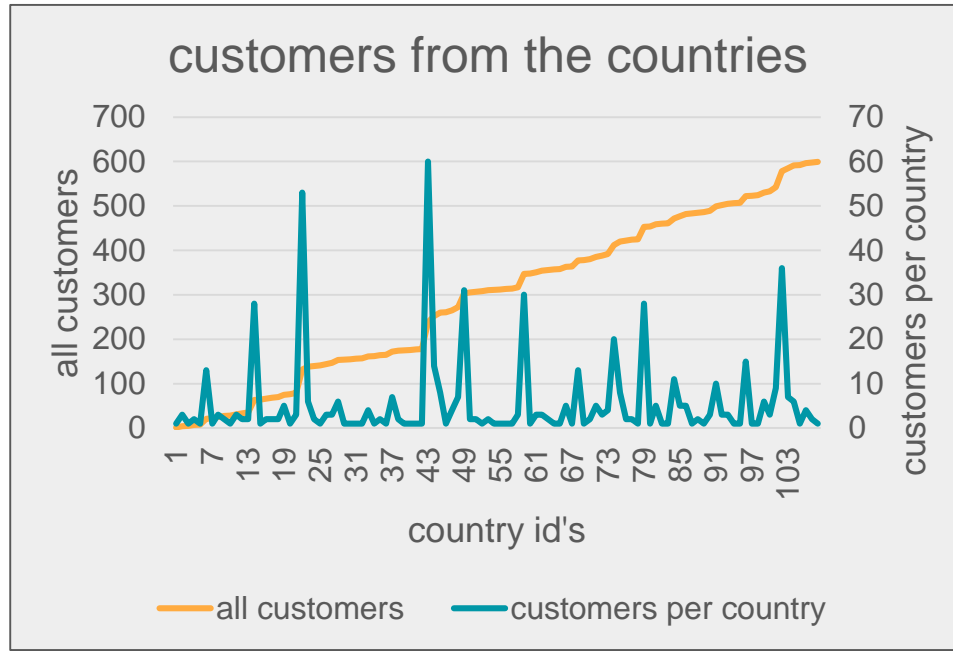

A real number of movies was counted by ROW_NUMBER because the film_id's are having a gaps therefore the function had to count real num of movies.

What is the min, avg, max length of the movie?

The graph shows the minimum, avg and max length of the movie.

What is a number of customers from the countries and total number of all customers?

The graph shows the number of customer per countries (per id's) and total number of customer